1 and 4 are already present where i play

Three and four are present where I play so this is my thinking as well... I'm looking for the stuff we don't already have. The problem I have with the anti-cheat is it leaves nothing for the moderators to do. It seems kind of funny to put it that way, but even since the advent of BIATCH, I've found I have very little to do as a moderator except for petty little problems.

Bug fixes there are some bugs that can be fixed manually but the rest are TT's job don't really want anything else except for bugfixes and shiny stuff

EDIT: Lol i don't understand why the ;X smiley shows this
