Everytime i enter a server i get this message:

Setting your bw below the default 56000 is not allowed?

now i asked around and stuff and most of them say its cheats or something but they are not sure. well..i dont use cheats, never used cheats.

i want to know what it means and if it can be fixed

Thanks

I hate to bump a question almost a year old now but I searched for an answer and this is all I could find.

I just installed Ren on my laptop (bought on Ebay from Sold Out Software...not sure if this would be the issue) and when I join a server it says that bandwidth msg and then auto-corrects it.

When I move my mouse to the left to the option thing on the advanced game listings page I don't have that "My Information" section that I saw on another thread. So I can't change the default speed thing. It just has the options for: Chat, Buddies, Options, News, Clans, Rankings, and Network Status. And I did look through all of them to try and find it.

My question is where and how can I change this or will all the servers just re-adjust the settings each time I join a game?

Thanks,
Ballstein
