Well, most of it I had planned anyway. Although the chathooks for veteran players was something I wasn't going to add. Which is why I will create a flare and let server owners write there own cinematics, it's too close to the servers that allow you to !buy stealth and !buy ramjet for my liking. It's almost my get out clause so I can take no blame when people start writing cinematics that are obviously ridiculous.
Plus this way it's in keeping with the dynamic theme it now has going...

I plan on doing some of this. It's taking me some time however atm. I'm doing a polling system in my server at the moment.

I'll ask the guy I'm making my plugin for if I can release it when I'm done.

If you want to collaborate then I am all ears. I don't understand why you would need permission to release source code that you have written yourself though :S
