Aprimel know, you just have to modify the W3D.

Then why didn't you believe him?

First you were saying he edited the part of the pic with the guns, when you were convinced he didn't, you said all he did was edit the .w3d...Uh, did he ever claim to do anything else?

It just seems like you can't make up your mind on what to argue about.

And just for future reference, learn how to have a civilized conversation because I can guarantee you that no one is going to take you seriously when you call them stupid, a liar, a fag (7 times), lame (4 times) and tell them they suck. Really, all that's going to do is make your points less credible.

First person is easy, the hard part is displaying it correctly in third person, but that's possible as well.
