the sails are great but they pose a problem, where does the radiation come from, if the radiation came from the ship then it would be just as good if not better to just have the radiation source pointed backward using no sail to push it forward.

but if you used an idea used for a very big space camera that used a big satellite that shot radiation at the ship this pushed it forward.

here's another way to use the sails the dark red colored thing is the sail and the green lines represent the radiation from the nuclear blast, this would be repeated hundreds of times a second in a large array of panels like this to move the ship forward
