People have said this game would be dead for years now. If anything, I've seen the game grow just a bit more from when that was said. I see a few servers full everyday with regular players. And that's just on the rr list.

The game won't be dead anytime soon. The patch will come out regardless of what anyone thinks. If it takes another year, oh well. It'll take another year. Thing is, ren will still be here just like it was last year when everyone said it was gonna be dead.
