So, you're trying to get something to function like what we have at St0rm? Hmm.

I'm sure reborn would probably be able to write a plugin for you, but I'm not gonna speak for him soo...Good luck on your quest.

Btw. Our system works off our rank system (proprietary) also, all they do is allow the ranking commander access to call down backup at will (within a certain amount of time). Everything's timed so you can't spam !backup, !cbackup, etc. All the bot does is send a console command, which I scripted, "cinematic <id> <filename.txt>" and it plays a cinematic drop script at the player's location.

I know reborn has my all my console commands I've written (including some non-production ready ones) but can't release them, openly.

I'll see if reborn could write this up for you. If not, try to incorporate it into your bot.

Good luck!

P.S.

The first isn't meant as a flaming/degrading remark so I hope it wasn't taken that way.
