OK, I don't have the time to follow everything going on anymore hence I haven't read these forums in like 6 months.

That hostname was on loan, with the knowledge it could be called back anytime. The hostname Crimson uses on here main server is different.

Anyway, as far as i could see that hostname wasn't used in ages, I was going to set it up as a clanwar server.

There's a bust-up in the ranks at NS, I get asked if exodus can use the name, I said yeah no problem as it wasn't being used, and if it was it seemed to be a reaction to the split to use the name out of spite.

So to make it clear, yes I said they can use the name. Your politics between the communities are your business, i couldn't give a flying fuck what happened or what will happen.

As for me, this is the first time i logged in in ages, and it will be the last. I didn't come here to debate or argue, as i really don't care that much. I came to remove any doubt.

Peace.
