I don't know if anyone saw the "gay test" topic in the spam forum yesterday before it's deletion... I made it right before the poll topic to make sure the filter was indeed still there. After simply posting "exodus" and seeing it turn into "faildus" I just edited the post saying, "that's gay"...

Didn't see much reason for that topic to be deleted after the edit it was seemingly normal for the spam forum... but oh well don't much care.

I am glad to see the filter gone, but amazed by the complete denial of it's existence in the first place. Then again, should I be suprised?

I am suprised though, that this topic has made it to a whole 3 pages, but with 794 views at the moment it would be hard to say it was never here...
