Rank to me, is just a guideline for self improvement. I don't use the ranking system to compare myself with others. I use it to see how much I improved or degraded in the months time.

If I was #1 (LMFAO as if) I still wouldn't be happy. There is always room for improvement, so the ladders show if I am improving.

You have to laugh at those people that think the ladder system says they are one of the best at the game.
