Subject: WIP movie of new plugin
Posted by reborn on Sun, 23 Aug 2009 18:14:53 GMT

Most of this code has been ripped out from an old version of a DragonAde release, made by black-cell.

It's not very elegant either, it uses the filestream which I personally do not like because too much IO is the cause of most server lag. However, it does work, and it's a simple enough way to implement additional console commands (that are not really console commands at all) to the server.

Here is a movie showing the WIP of it.

http://spencerelliott.co.uk/video.html

Again, the site itself is still a work in progress, so please do not mind the errors and unfinished work.