Sounds like a driver issue to me but I don't have a Radeon card so I can't say. May be the newer drivers that are causing the problem? Westwood obviously had no problems running it on a Radeon 8500 as they implemented Truform and I've seen Renegade run on a 8500 perfectly.

I have a GeForce 4 ti 4200 and it doesn't over heat, mainly because the card I bought has a 350g copper heatsink and fan with Ram Sinks on instead of a cheap aluminium chipset cooler. I managed to overclock it to 305/650 and it runs like a ti 4600.
