Crimson, don't get me wrong please, I don't agree with any kind of stealing. I just want to know when and how you will apply the rules. I feel that you haven't really answered my question. Why do you think that taking PM rights will solve anything? Of course, if they would be spreading the information on this forum I have to agree with you, but personally I would either do it in public, so that everyone knows, or I would not take the risk and use IM/mail/IRC...

So that brings me to the question why PMs? and that brings me to the question, for how long? I mean, I haven't heard much about Exodus/NS leaking/bitch fights besides you in some way trying to get revenge on Exodus. I haven't seen them leaking anything on this forum for a while. So when would you not consider the leak active any more?

When none talks about Exodus anymore? That won't happen till the community dies and judging from their determination, that won't be any time soon.

Another thing which seems to happen is that you're getting more and more people against you with your kind of dictator-leadership on Renf. At least, that's what I'm judging from the amount of servers that delinked from irc.ns.com.

I think that it is very important for you and renf, Crimson, to not get too furious about this and that you try to separate your roles as NS admin and RenF admin. I know you're paying for both, but let it be clear that I wouldn't mind donating some for RenF if it where possible and if I would know for certain that it would be used for RenF and not NS. Also I would like to have the feeling that users could have some input on how it would be ru
