Black Christmas (no its not an adult video) is by far the scariest movie of all time. Its very hard to find on DVD let alone VHS. Try to find it if you can....its extremely scary (I dont get scared by any movie but this movie freaked me out because you didn't expect what was going to happen). Supposedly this movie is what led to the Halloweens. I guess the killer from Black Christmas was supposed to be made into Mike Myers and say that he forget to kill one of the family members on that Christmas and so on or something weird like that....but instead they didn't want to ruin a great movie and kept Black Christmas as a stand alone and then made Halloween follow almost identically in its footsteps. I recommend it.

BTW....have you played that new Console AvP? I heard it sucks because they only have single player missions and no skirmishes! Whats up with that? Also did you play the Exp. to AvP2? I never got around to buying it....and noone plays that awesome game online anymore (ahh good times)
