love to see people ore react so much for jsut a Online game tournament of having a Below 10 People Match.

Realise this: Jelly And any other active community/Ren Server which is active, will have allways people in the line ot play such as 10+ any time.

But when it goes about {Os}/Cw.cc Smaller "Groups" we play with the people we know basicly over a long period which will say we will not have a large amount everytime we play,thats the problem when you Run a Clan/Group but you might not understand it at all if i see you saying stuff you don't know much of probally.

we could have if we didn't had Rosters, so we could ask other people/Friends to join us in the match to fill up the spots,But we have rosters and so we will go with the rosters which is a rule so don't blame people for having a smaller amount of people, cause sometimes stuff happends while people arent enable to show up, which is Called "Real Life".

You may play us 10v4 ore what ever if you wish to have it, and if you would feel yourself a big guy to play a match like that.

Also i think Me and The Jelly Match organiser should pick a date which fits well to both Sides, and disuss it instead of popping a date right now when nothing will be sure/is discussed. so i fancy the jelly match organiser Contacts me By pm here to get things sorted.
