But I love this anyway, the textures are excellent. Great work!

Whats weird about that?

I mean the only reason why people were living in Egypt was because of the river that goes through Egypt.

The trees are something you should fix though, I mean loaf trees in a desert, atleast make palm trees of those.

Also the barn makes me thing of those white/black houses in Germany and Switzerland I don't know how they are called at the moment. You could change those textures to stones.

Besides that, the map is awesome like the most of your other work.
