Perhaps you are correct, but what I said is common knowledge.

It annoys me that people like DieHardNL, who is supposed to be a 'good guy' thinks he is some kind of super bad-ass for spreading it around. When really, he's a being a fool.

But yeah, if someone feels it appropriate to remove my posts, I do not mind. I kinda think a little awareness might not hurt though, most people say it;s fine because they believe it's no big deal to see the buildings. If they know the true potential, then they would probably understand the position renegadeforums is taking.
