As for the RG and RR not working bits. The patch will remove RG so yes it will stop it from working. And the patch will probably not work side by side with RR (although not intentionally). There's just a bunch of things that will probably conflict.

Although given that Yrr/Neku/TimeFX has handed you the source code, I assume the patcher will check to see if you had RR installed, and behave accordingly when installing the patch...

As for RR no longer working, TT is designed to be a "super" patch, gathering all of the previously separate improvement efforts under one banner, so all of the RR fixes will be in TT anyway.
