ZeLL wrote on Mon, 26 October 2009 13:33it's around that time of the month where you get so upset at someone picking on you on a online game to a point where you posted a fake picture of yourself and lied that it was you, 10 minutes later you start paging me saying that it's not really you but it's actually a guy you travelled to a different city with all your mates carrying a baseball bat to beat the shit into him and you start wishing that ss lived near you so you could do the same to him to shut him up and make him stop picking on you anything to be cool eh hitman?

LOL really zell, you are entirely wrong and the guy i posted pic of for fun was a friend of mine who was over at my place at that time since he still had some shit open that contained picture's of him, so i took the most retarded one, i have refuted all your dumb accusations towards my 2+ year old jokes before and now you bring them up again for what reason exactly? next time i make a statement of some sorts, make sure to detect when its just plain bullshit, its usually followed by a stupid smiley, though that'd give it away... appearantly that is not enough! I never ever went towards anywhere with my friends to beat anyone up, I do not even own a baseball bat to begin with LOL, as for ss picking on me: he used to be a douchebag towards me when i was new, i've actually been talking with him quite a bit for years now, cant help your brain is still stuck somewhere around 5 centurys ago LOL better luck next time

ps: relax and drink a cup of tea before you reply next time, wouldn't want you jumping of a bridge or something similar...
