Meh, the tourney should be about figuring out who the best community is. And lets be real, only reason jelly stands a chance is because their roster is flooded with CW players (but it's cool jelly was a cw player when he made the server) either way, the games should be a f2f or something simular. CW doesn't need to beat jelly twice, they never beat us the first time.

Shouldn't need to be double elimination in the final game.. cmon

It's a double elimination bracket, and even though jelly did not WIN that round, CW.cc did not show up. Look back for those topics to find out what exactly happened, but it's not worth bringing all of that back again.

I can't change the way the bracket works now. I wish CW.cc had played but they simply couldn't, I'm against wins by forfeit.
