Renegade obviously but there are some specific things I look for in an FPS before buying it.

Nowadays, these are the main things I look for in an FPS before I buy:

- outdoor environments included (not just indoor maps)
- lots of vehicles to drive (flying vehicles a bonus)
- No bullshit 2 weapon carry-limit
- older graphics preferred, I like chars/vehicles/weapons to be low poly models w/good textures. Games like Red Faction look really really really good with this. Ren as well.
- Multiple factions
- Good weapon firing animations/explosions; this is my only graphics related requirement though I don't make a big deal about it if the game lacks it.

I usually look for older titles to buy using my above criteria. All those make for me a good FPS.
