The laptop I just bought and my girlfriends that we got almost a year ago are great for us, they run Renegade and a few other games we enjoy with no problems. Both cost under $1,000. The Gateway ended up being $20 dollars more ($500) but came with more HD and a pretty blue color instead of the dull "coffee brown" as Gateway calls it.

This HP laptop I have now cost $700 almost a year ago, but it is still new enough for me. I don't play Crysis or CoD, or any other demanding games.
