Hi Guys!

I would like to know if you would be interested to participate on a Project that will gather Renegade old timers (from day one of Ren to 2008 apx) in a one day reunion fun Games of old timer Fest on Exodus server if this event ever takes place.

Some quit Renegade some are here and there on different servers. That would be a good way to get together again with some of your long time no see Renegade friends.

This is a call for all communities if you still have contact with some old timer or yourself would like to participate let us know.

I think that for one day people will be Happy to participate even if it's not on your normal server or you're playing another game or games.

There's a partial list of players that would be interested here

Pass the word and find your Old renegade CD. Don't forget we need a way contact you if this event takes place for one more time of fun games!

Thanks for reading!
