I stand by my original statement. The entrance to gdis base is the best place for a mrl on field for the purpose of:

- 1) Harv whoring
- 2) Dealing damage to enemy vehicles
- 3) Discovering and blocking stank rushes.

You may argue that havocs would sit on them? That's why they're at the entrance where they can be teched, whilst the tech remains behind cover, or have cover to rep themselves away from the field.
