Hmm, I just looked at the combo's for the case, and saw this:

If you get the Antec 1200, and the Corsair PSU, it'd be the same price, BUT, you gotta deal with a rebate first. Antec's well known for their power supplies, so maybe go with that combo.

Always be on the look-out for similar components and combo's that help you save on money. The less money you spend, means you get to buy more games, or sock some coin into the bank account.
