lol, he said, 'the weekend' ppl...

proably just going for a break, and doesn't want to spend 4 hours pruning flames when he gets back.

Renegade is in a crisis right now, deflamation of characters', accuations, and wide spread-unfair advantages, but the games still holds more value than CS does to many veteran FPS players. And look at how currupt Cs has become. That game has evolved into a war between programers, who can hack, or block the best. The good vs the bad, night vs day.

We'll just be locking our FDS for a while, inviting those we trust.
