This topic has been here for 3 days... and still inb4 rocko, ralph or any other person who pretends to be black...

Serious note, we all know you can't say anything bad about any minority or you are automatically a racist, even if it has nothing to do with their ethnicity. Also like some others have already said, the fact that comparing black people to monkeys is one of the oldest racial slurs doesn't help much... even if that was not this person's intent, it was bound to be the way a lot of people seen it.
