Doubt it. Fox News is the most watched network in the US. MSNBC, which is pretty skewed to the center-left is in second place. The so-called 'Clinton News Network' was dead last in viewership last I checked.

Hmm...lets see... they bash Bush for his spending as if he's the devil, and yet Obama, who has spent more than Bush, or any other democratic president is some sort of "Messenger from God".

Yea, I definitely don't see any co-relation between that.
