Speaking of annoying... I don't know about anyone else but I keep getting a popup that says "Enter username and password for ftp://ftp.blackintel.org" in each thread that you have posted in. That had to do with our website move, my excuse for that. It should be fixed now/when your DNS refreshes. I made the mistake of directing ftp.blackintel.org to the wrong server and therefore it required a password. Now it is fixed and pointing to the BlackIntel box with an anonymous FTP account.
