All of it is shit compared to a real burger from the store, restaurant, or straight from the cow. Really, the only reason fast food tastes good is because of the grease and seasoning, whereas real beef has natural flavor.

I worked at McDonald's before and the amount of grease the burgers have on them fresh off the grill is outrageous. A good burger shouldn't take under one minute to cook.

God damn it, I'm hungry for a burger now ass holes!
