Rage and post at the place the owner hates most. How original. You won't post the proof, and are asking for people to email you, because you know damn well that you edited it all. Seriously, stop looking for attention, when you yourself really have no idea what is going on. I am friends with several of the people demodded, and i also can't stand many of them, but overall i see this as a step up. Most of the ones demodded only talk shit about people behind their backs, looking for attention, and when you were caught...you were punished...then couldn't take it and have to post here, giving half-ass lies? Lets all grow up. Get over it Shai, you had it coming.
