Fail? It was being tested, and some memory leaks were occurring that had to be found, and still are. It didn't fail, it is still in progress.... It didn't copy anything from TT, if anything, it copied the old fnfall server, with much similar crates and gameplay...mixed with the old atomix mod as well.

Half the shit on there was to be fixed by TT. They went ahead and tried to do it themselves and it lagged like complete shit.

Just because someone is poor doesn't mean they're a bad person. If you honestly believe that, then i don't even know why i'm bothering to argue with you, because you are clearly lost.

I never said anything about his income. He obviously has no life outside of renegade and mcdonalds hence his personality the way it is now. No social skills and rage at the world cuz fail.

No. I didn't say he should of broke any laws. I just said that Anthrax deserved it (assuming it's even true), which he completely did. Though I would of gone at it differently.

No one deserves that no matter that they do. Online life is different then in real life. You don't cross a like cuz someone hurt your eboner.

Why ask a question, then assume an answer? It's not next to no reason at all neither....the guy lives to torment people, and he's pathetic at it as well.

So stooping below his level is cool then? Cuz two wrongs make a right.

Some played in commwars, yes. It's a sacrifice for a better community....and it's not like there isn't anyone to take their places anyways.

They were going to leave anyways. Xpert found out a day or so before and claimed he has knew forever and they were all "puppets". Pretty Cool.

You are bringing up past events that really have nothing to do with this one...that was a completely different story.

The mod running on atomix right now is campas.. so seems relevant to me.

I'm yet to say a word about your community.

Yet you call one of the admin a liar?

LOL. Like i care about VIP. As i have said before: I would rather not be a mod than be a mod. I like to play care-free more than i like to play for responsibilities.

Then quitting defending a community that u dont hold any responsibilities towards so u can be care free.
