Quote:Half the shit on there was to be fixed by TT. They went ahead and tried to do it themselves and it lagged like complete shit.

They? It was Stewie.. The memory leaks weren't even coming from those fixes anyway...it was, and is a crate issue AFAIK. Either way, it was 1 person doing the job of many, and succeeding..

Quote:I never said anything about his income.

Wrong. You said this:

Quote:He is a pathetic, poor, mcdonalds employed, piece of shit
I'd call that judgmental.

Quote: No social skills and rage at the world cuz fail.

So far i've only seen you prove this about yourself.

Quote:No one deserves that no matter that they do.

He supposedly hacked into his emails and facebook, and changed the password. He then gave them back like 1.5 days later, after Anthrax had a huge fit about it. Sure it was illegal, but it's not like he committed murder or anything (like you are making it seem).

Quote:So stooping below his level is cool then?

Like i said, i would have done it differently, but at the same time, it's nice to see him finally learn his lesson.

Quote:They were going to leave anyways.

If that was true, then we wouldn't be having this conversation.

Quote:Xpert found out a day or so before and claimed he has knew forever and they were all "puppets". Pretty Cool.

He did know what they were saying behind his back, because he read their pm's on the forums...after being suspicious. That is why many of them are mad, they feel they were invaded....which is a bunch of shit, because they were the ones sneaking around starting shit.

Quote:The mod running on atomix right now is campas..

This conversation is not about the mod though. You are trying to make it about the mod, because you need something against Xpert...and cannot find anything better.

Yet you call one of the admin a liar?

Even if i did...i don't care. Calling one of your little admins a liar is not talking shit about your community, especially when the subject is about an entirely different topic, and community.

Then quitting defending a community that u dont hold any responsibilities towards so u can be care free.

Lol. I like to PLAY care free. We are not in game right now, and i will defend someone when i feel that they are being attacked wrongfully. That's just me. Deal with it.
