If you contribute to a server financially you don't deserve special powers. Nobody does, not even the owner. Unless you are a moderator or admin, which in that case your powers should be limited to removing cheaters, douchebags and keeping the server in a good state.

It's Renegade. Nobody should be given special discounts, super weapons or powers alike. I am sure players there are playing there for a fun gaming experience, not advantages to those who gave a buck or two.

However, it's not my server. I don't make the rules, they do. If you don't like the server you can leave it and find another one.
