Fools! It looks to me that Gozy, Carrier, Crazfulla, & Starbuzz (people on this page) have about the same size signature... (Carrier's being eyeballed as the smallest)

If you're going to enforce one of them, then you should enforce all of them... I mean, the difference is a hair.

My point is that just by eyeballing, it is very hard, if not impossible, to determine the exact length specifications of a signature unless you are specifically looking for it. The only time a large signature is a distraction is if it is a distraction.
