I'm not sure even you know exactly what you're trying to say here.
The big brother-esque feel of England's government is pretty bad from what I hear. The religion part should be a given.

Willing to bet the right-wing of England is the cause of both :\

"big brother-esque feel"? That doesn't answer anything. What does that mean?
I can't really put it any other way. I figured it's kind of obvious what I mean, but apparently not. Go read 1984.

What I mean to ask is what your specific grievences are, not what "big brother" means. What is the government doing specifically that you have a problem with?
