If.

It's about the same if as "If SirKane would find time to make the launcher..."

Renegades biggest fix and change list ever is being held up on a launcher... This better be some damn amazing launcher, I haven't seen the stock ren launcher in over a year, and preferably I probably don't wanna see this one either lol.

I say release it as is so we can start enjoying the benefits of 4.0, if the launcher is designed to make it so most people can easily change options easier I really doubt its going to be used that much. And if its going to yell TIME TO ROCK N' ROLL, WOOWHO! at me every time I got to start Ren its going to be disabled as quickly as possible.

But seriously its sad enough that we had to wait for a map downloader, now its the launcher, net it's going to be the anti pirating software and CD checker.
