Just a quick post in reponse to one of the questions I have been asked recently. I have have had a few people asking me if they can report cheaters or 'spammers' to someone at EA. I did a bit of looking around and the closest thing I found was an email on the support pages to report terms of services violations.

I have no idea if this will help anyone but it was posted along under the c&c section (although a lot of the info is outdated e.g. "Flying Units are currently only available on the Renegade Flying Unit Beta"). I thought it would be worth letting people know that there is an address for such reports. The email is tos@support.ea.com, the full topic can be found here. Thanks
