So you just need to manually reenter the serial and then it worked for you?

I continue to get an "Invalid serial" message even if I manually enter my serial, my computer can long on to xwis, so I guess I have no clue why its having issues with my serial.

are you using the digits off of your CD case?
are you sure they are correctly entered>

Wait we are suppose to use the CD Key?

Oh wait never mind they are the same.

But then it works when I manually entered it reading it off the back of the case... weird, because I manually entered what was in my reg and that didn't work.
