

---

Subject: Re: vzw re-born to be alive

Posted by CarrierII on Tue, 04 May 2010 09:55:34 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Biologically, it's not possible for you to get HIV/AIDs unless you've shared needles or had (unprotected) sex with someone who has it.

Therefore, regardless of sexuality, if you and your partner are both HIV negative (and neither of you have had sex with someone who isn't), your blood is HIV negative.

Of course, the rules are different to this, I'm speaking theoretically.

---