Well I am a graphics artist and I would love to make something for renstation.com. I graduated from a one year intensive course on graphics design a couple years ago, but I haven't done much graphics work since then so I am rusty. About the mods on the Renstation servers, I agree, I got banned from one of the servers the other week because of some a$$ that started spamming racist crap all over the server. It really ticked me off so I told him to go F himself. Needless to say I was banned from the server after that. Oh well, next time I will just shutup and log off b4 my temper flares in front of one of these wastes of human life.

P.S. these new cheats being used by these 10 year olds are ruining the game for everyone. I can't play a single game now without some stupid f### using cheats and ruining the game for everyone else. That's how I ended my game last night. The 100th 10 year old logs on and starts using cheats so half the server logs off. fun fun fun.
