0x90 is seriously the Osama Bin Laden of renegade. I do not think I would go so far as to classify him as a sociopath because generally there outbursts do not happen online through cheats. My opinion would be extreme insecurity, lacking friends most of his life. Then all of sudden he coded this aim bot and all of the low life cheaters were his new best friends. Why would he want to let go of that feeling?

I honestly doubt he can relate in anyway about how the clean players of this game actually feel about it, nor does he care because people actually have respect for him on the website he released it.

My opinion is that yes he should be banned. He is a piece of shit that ruined this game player by player. He may not of been cheating but he provided the means. As much as I want him to be banned I know it will do nothing. It's not going to stop him from making this cheats it will make him more inclined to do so.

The thing that disgusted me most with this thread was the amount of people defending him. This forum is for RENEGADE. 0x90 single-handedly destroyed the game we have been playing for years. He made an undetectable cheat that gives anyone that uses it countless advantages. People have spent years playing this game. Some of us played competitively and became very good at clan games. *cheat name removed*was then released and people were instantly gaining the skills we worked hard for. Some of us just played public and gained a lot of teamwork strategies and also got good. Again *cheat name removed*made new players equal. *cheat name removed*ruined renegade and it will continue if it isn't stopped.

Finally I just want to say fuck you to anyone who supported 0x90 because he ruined this game and you are doing nothing to protest it by defending his lonely ass.
