this problem happened to be about 2 or so times. And it happened yesterday for me. I am playing TFD Renegade on Windows Vista with CP2 and scripts 3 (pure mode).

I too don't know what exactly causes this and each time it happened I had to solve it by a clean reinstall like today. Usually, the symptoms are some extreme lag following by a lost connection to server and then a complete crash of my Renegade back to my desktop.

And when I click to play Renegade again, my keyboard goes dead so I would have to watch the EA logo animation and the short orangey intro scene. After that I can click the menu options and get into a server but my keyboard and mouse would be dead after joining the game while I am left staring into the PT. So I have to press the Windows key or ctrl-alt-del to go back to desktop and start taskmanager to close. Restarting doesn't work either.

It rarely happens but its a tad bit troublesome to reinstall when it does. but I have my discs/serial in a safe place so no problems.

just a few thoughts...
