Just ban the fucking thing. Let the Muslims living in the West come out in a furious rage. Let their true colour be seen. Vile, savage sand monkeys praising an absent God, a convoluted book of holy scribblings and a child molester.

you'll still have muslim men trying to force women to wear it. this proposition would be more popular if it was phrased better. it isn't attempting to impose a ban on clothing, it's attempting to lift a ban on clothing. so no, we shouldn't put up with women being forced to wear the burqa.
