I've watched some early beta matches and broodlords seem a bit imba, while terran tank builds seem impossible for non-pros...does the balancing still need refinement? I'll have to wait 14 weeks

Brood lords aren't bad at all. They require a lot of resources, time to produce, and babysitting. Most Zergs I see don't even get Hive tech, and instead try to compose their entire lategame army of Roaches and Hydras. You're right about the pure-mech builds. Don't try them if you don't know you're you're doing.
