The AVG team got back to me and said "there was virus code in those files" (both RenegadeServer.exe and Register.exe were triggering AVG) and sent the following files back as clean files:

<http://www.cncmods.net/files/clean.zip>

Given that others have reported this issue, it sounds like the actual FDS installer on the Westwood FTP may be infected with this virus.

If anyone has any information one way or the other (I doubt that all the people with problems actually have a virus that infected their RenegadeServer.exe files separately) please post here. I am going to send an email to the new EA community guy explaining the situation so they can possibly look into it.
