

---

Subject: If you're interested...

Posted by exnyte on Thu, 28 Aug 2003 16:45:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

sjezk3so who are you named after ?? i wanna know now

He's not named after anyone:

AircraftkillerSo why the name AircraftKiller?

Well, that's a good question... The nickname is derived from when I was much younger, and much more stupid... I used to spend time with my friend Marshall (don't know where that guy went now) figuring out new uses for bottle rockets and other explosive devices. Eventually I settled on bottle rockets being modified to fly just a bit farther, so I started launching them at low flying aircraft. Cessnas, Pipers, etc... Never hit any, of course, but it was pretty cool.

He got the nick from shooting bottle rockets at low flying aircraft.

---