It was a bullshit movie I didn't care to watch like all the so-called "horror" movies of today.

Horror movies nowadays are full of pointless blood and gore with knives and chainsaws and deranged maniacs chasing dumb-oversexed kids.

Last time I saw a good horror movie was The Wickerman (made in 1973). It's all about a really good quality storyline with a feeling of horror that slowly gets on you as the movie comes to a mind-blowing conclusion. That's what I am lookin for. I want to be in the shoes of the character in the movie.

Sadly, they won't be making any quality storyline movies like that today because the market is different now. Today they can make total bullshit and people will still go see them. Shitty movies like Hostel and Hostel 2 are so unconvincing along with the SAW shit.
