GoTWhisKéY wrote on Sat, 04 December 2010 10:52I didn't get to see the whole thing of Clear and Simpee posting about you and trying to sabotage the ladder or something. I have read multiple times though from you about what they did, and it is pretty gay. It sounded like things got pretty personal. I can't really blame you for banning them from the league during a sensitive time, even though it did hurt the league from my perspective when you banned them. But hey, it's your league - why should you have to listen to them rip you up, then allow them to play in your league. that's the first comment on the subject from anyone besides me that was even slightly critical of simpee and clear... it's about time.

so we return to my earlier question, why do you think players like simpee don't? if you read his posts you'll notice it isn't through lack of effort. he says he tries harder than everyone else. he says a clanwars pro can only really have a big effect on the game on a flying map (wow). he expresses far greater concern about his own individual score than the team winning (hitman thinks in a similar way, it seems). these are the kind of comments you'd laugh at if they came from a "ladder whore".

I can't answer that question because how can I really know how good Simpee is in a public server or comm war? I haven't played with him in a while so I'm just basing my judgements on what I do know - potential.

potential doesn't translate into results in simpee's case, as you can see from his own statements.

Quote:Obviously Spoon you're really into the game right now, have been playing a lot, and really fine-tuning your skills. I already said you're around the top right now.

did you think i was around the top when i was not really playing terribly actively, i.e. most of the last few years at clanwars?

hitman certainly did, then decided that i'm a lot worse now that i play a lot more actively.

Quote:What more do you want? Do I have to say "Spoony is the best player right now" when I don't necessarily believe that yet?

i'm not sure i understand the question.

Quote:We're only just starting these lobbywars. Give it a a month and you'll have plenty of time to prove your skills in that time. If you're rapping all, then people will probably reconsider. I don't have enough material to declare you #1 yet. Not enough ingame time with you. Thats all. Remember it is peoples opinions your trying to change. If you claim #1, there's only 1 place to prove that, and it isn't the forum.

so let's disregard all the available evidence, shall we? all of it points to me being better than e.g. simpee or hitman right now.

Quote:Quote:

you've got that exactly upside down. you, hitman and simpee are the ones freaking out I'm not freaking out at all, implying it is just silly, considering how its actually you who've become upset over not getting recognition. You also 'freaked out' when you started yelling an imitation of

me. That was the closest thing to a freak out I've seen so far. maybe not you, then. hitman and simpee certainly were.

if you think me pointing out that your excuses were exactly the same as hitmans was a "freak out" or a "yell" just because i used capitals to emphasise them, believe that too.

at my answer to the question "who do you think is the best player now?" you desperately try to change the subject to stuff from 1 or 2 or even more years ago. apparently we shouldn't even consider the games that are actually played now (publics, commwars etc). you think we've got to do more lobbywars/clanwars before the question can be answered. i point out how these lobbywars seem to be going so far, and OMG SPOONYS RUBBING IT IN OUR FACES, HES JUDGING US

Another freak out ^

not at all, it's a logical rebuttal of what you said. you did say i was "rubbing it in our faces" and "judging us". that's not a paraphrase, let alone an inaccurate one.

Quote:Since its you claiming to be #1, let us do the judging. Claiming it yourself is only asking for trouble. If your truly sure that you're #1, just play the game and prove it. You should never have to declare yourself #1 and defend it through a forum.

have you paid attention to this thread at all? i actually have been playing the game. my assertion that i'm the best player now has been challenged by people who don't play the game.

Quote:I never seen Kill claim to be #1 once throughout all of clanwars. I'm surprised that you would use 1 friendly lobby war to state your case as well. Now the pressure is on during those games I guess. They're not friendly lobby wars anymore, there Spoon's battleground. If he rapes you, we'll here about it on the forums the next day, just like Troop. People would dodge & flame H2O if we ever pulled a stunt like that.

this is really sad, whiskey. i'm surprised you feel the need to stoop that low. yes, they are friendly lobbywars; i never said otherwise. no, if i rape you i won't boast about it on the forum the next day just like troop. but if you say that the only judge of skill is these lobbywars (ignoring all the other evidence, all of which points to my side) then i might comment on how these lobbywars go. if the answer offends you, don't ask the question. you weigh in on a "who's the best player" thread then when someone mentions games that point to the answer being something other than you'd like, it's an outrage? a "stunt"?
