Simpee wrotedont complain about sbhs running around or people going afk in those games because in the community wars u beat me in, 50% of my team had sbhs. that didnt stop u taking credit now did it?

if anyone other than you said this i'd have told you to quit making stuff up, but since lying is all you ever do i'd be wasting my breath.

anyway, there's an enormous difference between a community war where teams are intentionally selected, and these hybrid games we did where if two random public guys join your team and immediately go AFK, and my moderator rights haven't been sorted out yet, there's nothing can be done about it.

and we're not talking about one series of five games where everybody agreed that a few random public server guys going afk is a big problem that must be addressed (and we have addressed it); we're talking about every single community match i ever played against you, which covers quite a lot of different teams.

do you seriously think you could have taken a team of renforums players who've never even played comm matches before and led them to victory against teams like jelly, simpee?

and while i have your attention again - though i thought you'd already left this argument in a rage at losing it - why haven't you apologised to me yet for the UNBELIEVABLY pathetic thing you did on the jelly forum, you lying, cheating little bitch?

Hitman wrote on Tue, 07 December 2010 09:27reply to ^above: offcourse i care, if i didnt i wouldn't even have replied, this is the only thread in entire renegade i actually care for, and thats just because you became cocky as fuck out of the blue no, i just answered the question honestly, and you went berserk.

whiskey's comment on this was a bit odd - you're not allowed to say you're the best if it's what you think. well then, what's the point of the best player threads that we always did on clanwars, where simpee and boomer always went absolutely mental whenever anyone put kill and whiskey at the top or near the top? should people say something other than they mean to prevent the psychological anguish?

Quote:no one will ever be able to prove he's actually better or atleast as good as my homey spoony here LOL, just because no matter what happens there will always be something that makes the game abit unfair therefor it wont count, and even if this does ever happen then he'll just say this: "this only shows that your teams teamwork was better, it has nothing to do with individuals!"

you've already been caught lying about this, why make yourself even more pathetic than you already have?

i never said the games didn't count, liar. i said right from the beginning that the results are what they are, the team that won won. i simply said that since you were so eager to boast about, say, volcano, it might be worth looking at the game you were presenting as evidence - the fact it was 8v6, the fact you only just barely won by three seconds, etc. the fact you were getting thrashed on field until it suddenly became 8v5 and you just started to claw your way back, etc. still, the results are the results, you did win, though if this game is to be used as evidence for who the best player is, the fact you could only just barely win a 8v6 by three seconds seems if anything to count for my side, doesn't it?

Quote:how come you weren't a top notch clanwar player since your basically the best with just about every vehicle that renegade has? eitherway u said u never said u were the best clanwars player, but your the best public player lol again, why do you keep lying? are you so desperate to avoid conceding spoony might be right about something? the point isn't clanwars or publics, the point is timeframe. i never said i was the best player a year ago, for example, because i didn't play that much, did i? or indeed at any point over the last few years. this is the point i tried repeatedly to get through to you - supposing you were better than me at clanwars (despite the fact you always said the opposite until you went berserk in this thread), wouldn't that be only to be expected given how often you played and how often i didn't? you had an ENORMOUS number of games per month (probably the most we've seen since Soul) at the time and you kept complaining that i didn't play very often, remember?

Quote:so your the best in games where people generally just dont try in or just play whatever character they like, for their pleasure, not for ranks or ladder... i don't play for ranks or ladder either. i play the way i like to play, simple as that. and do yourself a favour, stop saying you weren't trying whenever you lose, as you were doing before those lobbywars. it's a sad attempt to rig the argument so you can't lose it... boomer and wrs used to do it all the time.

Quote:if you really would like to show off your amazing skill in renny then just play people like me and whiskey a clanwar with whoever u want to?
the difference between me and you, hitman, is it's never occurred to me to play a game just to prove something. i play for fun, i've certainly never thought that i've got to play someone just because what they said on a forum made me angry, as is the case with you. i prefer big games, though in case you haven't noticed, i'm also pushing these lobbywars forward.

Quote:the only 'evidence' u got supporting your case that u are better than me was a stupid topic on clanwars more than 1 year ago, lol... not valid IMO nice lie, again. i've put forth quite a lot of evidence, and you've always made the most ridiculous excuses as to why none of it is admissible. usually it's that pathetic "i wasn't trying" whine, which makes your case weaker rather than stronger.

as for the best player topics on clanwars, the whole point i was making was how your anger is clouding your judgement. i'm not sure why i need to keep repeating this. the point of referring to those topics was to remind you what YOU SAID, i.e. that i was better than you. since you went berserk in this thread, you've said many times that you were always better than me. well, were you lying then or are you just insane now?

Quote:but u dont even have anything on people like whiskey who were raping whatever clan came around for years you might want to read this thread more closely. i was one of the very few people at clanwars who never had a problem seeing how good kill and whiskey were. i can't be the only person who remembers how angry people like boomer and wrs and simpee and SS got at the idea that kill was the best player and whiskey was one of the best. and we're not talking about the H2O/Verb dodge month, we're talking about the period where H2O's win record was favourable against everybody.

Quote:as far as im concerned your a cocky bitch that tries to claim shit he does not deserve, and this is coming from someone who used to be in your clan and was a renebuddy of u, not from someone who always had beef with u like simpee, so if that counts for anything:
I don't think it does, because simpee has absolutely nothing to blame me for either. i've never done anything wrong to him, indeed i've done him nothing but favours, in spite of the extraordinarily pathetic way he's always behaved towards me.
